PROTECT THE FUTURE OF LIVESTOCK AT THE ELROY FAIR!

Livestock exhibitors and their livestock are very important to us. However, livestock can be a source of contamination, including pathogens and zoonotic animal diseases. Our goal at the Elroy Fair is to create and maintain an environment where livestock, exhibitors and visitors to the fair can co-exist in a safe and pleasurable place.

The Elroy Fair places a strong emphasis on bio-security against animal diseases and pathogen control for harmful bacteria like Salmonella and E. coli.

Pathogen Control: A comprehensive self-assessment of our entire grounds has been completed. As a result, we have reconfigured the location of our signage and hand washing stations as well as improved our sanitation and record keeping activities in order to keep our barns as clean and sanitary as possible.

Bio-Security: A comprehensive bio-security protocol to minimize the risk of disease transmission from animals to humans, as well as between animals will be in effect during the fair. This bio-security protocol includes veterinarian inspections before and/or throughout the fair. We encourage fairgoers to thoroughly clean all pens/stalls after removal of their animals at the end of the fair.

But we need your help!

As an exhibitor we need you to be ROLE MODELS to visitors and others at the fair. This includes your ongoing efforts to manage animal waste, properly store waste management equipment (shovels, pitchforks, and wheelbarrows) away from visitors, and avoid drinking and eating in the barns. Additionally, we need you to notify us if you see any signs of illness in animals around you, and if any of your animals are showing signs of illness prior to fair, to leave them home.

By doing your part to reduce the likelihood of contamination from pathogenic bacteria and/or the transmission of zoonotic diseases at the fair, especially to body systems that have not typically been exposed to specific pathogens or have weakened immune systems, we can continue to include animal events in the Elroy Fair long into the future. Thank you.

It is expected all people attending the fair practice BIO- SECURITY to insure the safety of exhibits and exhibitors at the fair and at home.
